A friend called to see me and brought about one-half teaspoonful of CUTICURA, advising me to try it, te ling of himself, brothers and mother having been cured by it. I would not try it at first, although I had been on crutches for over two weeks, and at one time I counted between twenty-five and thirty suppurating sores, and had not slept more than five hours in three nig ts. Monday morning about four o'clock the pain, burning and itching became so severe th I determined to try CUTICURA, thinking that if it did no good it could not make my leg much worse, for I was as raw as a plece of beef and as red as a beet, so I applied the CUTICURA, and leg much worse, for i was as raw as a piece of beef and as red as a beet, so I applied the CUTICURA, and in five minutes after I lay do an I was asleep. Next day I sent and got a box of CUTICURA, and I'll pledge my honest word I would not take $100 today for it, if I could not get another. I commenced using CUTICURA Monday morning about 4 o'clock, and today (Tuesday) my leg is nearly well, notwithstanding I had not waked a step without my crutches in two weeks. My sratitude to the man who first compounded CUTICURA is profound. May God bless him.

There are now several liquor cases pending and with prosecutions as successful as in the past the funds of the District will, perhaps, be largely increased during the coming month. The lowest fine in these cases is $250, while the maximum penalty is $800, so that a few convictions will furnish a good sum to the credit of the District. In most of the case the fines, or a portion of them, are paid. Some of the liquor sellers when fined think an imprisonment of two months will pay them better than parting with so much cash, but they usually change their minds before the expiration of their sentence and pay a good proportion of the fine to gain their liberty.
